Seniors opt out of the new Community Centre

Pioneer Circle seeks title/long term lease

The Pioneer Circle delegation to the November 26 meeting of Elk Point Town Council told the Town that the senior citizens' group has decided against becoming part of the new Community Centre building which is presently in the planning stages. The delegation also clarified a request received earlier by the Town, which Council felt asked for a title or a long term lease to the seniors' portion of the new building, which in fact referred to the present location of the Pioneer Circle building.

The existing property has never been owned by the Pioneer Circle. The hall was forfeited to the Town in 1973 by the Royal Canadian Legion, who were unable to pay taxes on the property, and the Town has allowed the Pioneer Circle use of the hall rent free for a large portion of the time since then.

In 1982, the Town gave titles of properties such as the curling rink, arena and the land on which the Elks Hall is located, to the Curling Club, Agricultural Society and Elks Lodge for $1 each, and since then has exempted these properties from taxes, or has forgiven their annual taxes. The Pioneer Circle did not request ownership of the hall at that time. It is still owned by the Town and is part of their tax base, although the Town does not collect taxes on the property.

News that the Pioneer Circle does not plan to be part of the new Community Centre surprised and disappointed some members of Council, who felt that Council had gone out of their way to accommodate the seniors in the planning process, by deferring to their choice of location. The delegation from the Pioneer Circle, John Williams, Phyllis Zarowny and Sid Holthe, declined comment on the reasons for the decision, however Councillor Morris Cooper, who is the Pioneer Circle President, later told Council that he feels the seniors "are afraid of getting in debt," and would rather patch up their present building.

The request for either title to the hall and property or a long term lease was discussed by Council and tabled until the next meeting to allow Council time to think about the move.

The Community Cultural Centre Building Society will meet with 3 architectural firms tomorrow, to determine which firm will be asked to come up with a concept and drawings for the building. Marshall Kachmar, who chairs the Society, was present at Council's meeting and reported that he has "a very determined group" and "a unique, exciting project—we're going ahead!"

1991 Budget By Christmas

The Town's Finance Committee has the 1991 operational budget so close to completion that they feel it could be completed in time to be passed at the final Council meeting of the year, on December 19. This would be several months ahead of the usual budget completion date. Tax notices, of course, will not be sent out until mid-1991, when school and other requisitions have been received by the Town, enabling the municipality to set a mill rate.

Holiday Schedule

Town of Elk Point employees will enjoy a five day holiday this Christmas season, with municipal operations closed from the normal closing time on Friday, December 21 until normal opening time on Thursday, December 27. Monday, December 24 will be a paid holiday for Town employees.

Francophone school could cause large tax hike County Board "Can't fight the Charter of Rights"

St. Paul's new francophone school could cost ratepayers in Elk Point as well as throughout the County of St. Paul a substantial increase on their 1991 tax bill, Elk Point's representative to the County of St. Paul Board of Education, Janice Van Maaron, told Elk Point Town Council at their Monday, November 26 regular meeting.

At this point, however, no one is sure how much more the bill will be. At the present time, the new school is being operated by School District No. 2228, which requisitions the County for funds in the same way as does Glen Avon Separate School District. The County is currently in the process of negotiating new tuition fees with SD 2228, and Van Maaron agrees that these fees, along with transportation fees and supplementary requisitions, should be paid to that body. She does not, however, agree with the possibility that a $2 million school could be built to house a potential 100 students, "and we would have to help pay for it." The francophone school currently has an enrolment of approximately 70 students in grades 1 to 6, but is considering expanding to a kindergarten to grade 12 operation.

Students must be "full and true francophones to take part," VanMaaron said, but the indication is that the majority of French parents "want their kids integrated into the regular school system instead." The francophones' objective, according to VanMaaron, is "to have their own board and governance. We [the County] are pushing for a regional governance board involving francophone schools in other towns in the area."

One problem VanMaaron sees is that "with the francophone issue and minority rights, there are no boundaries." If students from Heinsburg or from Northlands School District qualified to attend the school, their jurisdictions would have to pay for

Santas Anonymous

The Elk Point Lioness Club's Santas Anonymous fund is growing daily. Two of the past week's donors were the Elk Point Oilmen's Association (right) represented by Roland Moneta, who presented Diane Young of the Lioness Club with a cheque for $ 200, and St. George's Masonic Lodge, represented by Mike Glover (below), who donated $ 100 to this worthy cause.

Holiday season traffic program

To ensure the safe movement of traffic throughout our area during the upcoming holiday season, the Elk Point RCMP Detachment, in conjunction with the St. Paul Sub-division Highway Patrol, will be conducting a major traffic program. Sgt. Barry Kutryk of the Elk Point RCMP says this will include an increased number of Police Check Stops and a higher concentration of traffic law enforcement. Motorists are asked to use caution when approaching Police Check Stops. REMEMBER: Drive Defensively. Don't drink and drive. Buckle up, and have a safe and enjoyable holiday season.

Francophone school costs a concern

(Cont'd. from Front Page) them to go, even if a special van to transport them were needed. "We can't fight the [Canadian] Charter [of Rights]. It has gotten to the point where the Board is taking the Minister of Education to court" over the matter of direct transportation. At the present time, VanMaarion feels it may cost 3 times as much to educate a francophone child as an anglophone child, when transportation and tuition, plus the operating costs of an additional school, are figured in. When the former New Hope School was turned into a school for francophones, handicapped children had to be integrated into the regular school system, which VanMaarion said also caused additional expense. If the tuition fee contract negotiations are successful, VanMaarion said "we will know what the cost will be. If not, it's tremendously scary." Elk Point's trustee also reported that County school enrolments are down approximately 40 students from last year's figures, which has resulted in a $ 150,000 grant cut. This has caused some financial problems for the Board, which had budgeted for equal enrolment. A possible increase in enrolment next year may be possible if the County of Two Hills is successful in negotiations to have their boundaries changed so some of the students from the now-closed Derwent School are included in the County of St. Paul boundaries. Some students from Derwent are already attending school in Elk Point. Van Maarion ended her visit to Council on a positive note, by reporting that the addition to Elk Point Elementary School should be ready for use by the end of the Christmas holidays.

Red Cross Regional meeting

Irene Magnusson
Elk Point

A dozen or so ladies, long dedicated to support of Red Cross, gathered for their Annual Regional Meeting at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, November 27, in the F.G. Miller High School Home Ec. room. These ladies represent the nucleus of the Elk Point and Lindbergh branches, all having put in many years as active Red Cross supporters.

Margaret Modin, Regional Chairman, called for the minutes of last fall's meeting, these read by Secretary Irene Buck. Treasurer Hazel Hannah reported a total of $ 9,012.82 for the 1990 campaign. This has been delivered to head office.

Mary Moorehead was delegate to the Annual Convention, which she enjoyed, and suggested we follow the "Together We Can" slogan put forth for Red Cross workers.

Margaret White, of Elk Point, a "new worker", was in charge of the 1990 campaign in Elk Point and area. She stated it had "gone well", she'd had good cooperation, but has lost the help of the lady who assisted her last year. A new assistant will be recruited. By area, the returns were: Elk Point and area, $ 5,155.41; Lindbergh and area, $ 1,027.00; Heinsburg and district, $ 1,812.50; Clandonald, $ 879.00; Derwent, $ 138.91.

This can be considered very good work by those involved, and a return to be proud of, both by canvassers and donors alike.

Reports of branch activities were given by Vera Fakely, for Lindbergh, who listed items made and donated, including four disaster quilts, plus one being raffled; and by Violet McFadyen, for Elk Point.

This group has made various items, some sold, for Red Cross, as well raffled a very nice quilt, for a total of $ 550, held a Tea and Bazaar, and turned in 10 disaster relief quilts, for which there seems to be an endless need. Some items were sold at the Royal Purple Flea Market in November. All cash received for these various efforts has been turned in to Red Cross, for their various humanitarian services.

Modin continued her report of Red Cross objectives and plans, and how rules have shifted. Branches are to be more "on their own", turning their efforts into cash, by whatever means possible, rather than articles sent to Head Office, as space to store and care for these items is limited. Disaster bedding is still required, however.

Memorial funds are part of our support, and we should make it easy for donors to contribute. Careful 'bookkeeping' must be our goal, too.

The Annual Meeting part of the evening was brief, with all officials returned and accepting their posts, i.e., Irene Buck, Secretary; Hazel Hannah, Treasurer; Margaret White, Campaign Manager.

It seemed odd not to have a "water safety" report, as was given for so many years, and it was suggested we ask the Lions Club for a report, as they are now in charge of this community service.

A billion calories were then offered for lunch, by the Elk Point ladies, these were coped with, and the evening ended with Merry Christmas wishes to all.

Senior High girl's basketball

What team deserves our highest honor? Who can we see "VICTORY" surging out of in voluminous amounts? (The Winnipeg Blue Bombers, yes, but that's a different sport!) It's none other than the distinguished F.G. Miller Senior Girls Basketball team. Our team proved they've got what it takes and more in Glendon on Monday, November 26th. The Glendon team was challenging, but thanks to our most excellent teamwork, and the skill of our key scorers, Lori Irvine, Rhonda Rupchan, and Tanya Kenyon, we overcame and conquered. Dianne de Moissac demonstrated incredible proficiency and was named one of the three star players for the evening, as well as Tanya Kenyon and Rhonda Rupchan. At half-time the score was 20-18 for F.G. Miller, and it was a struggle to stay on top throughout the game. Each and every player showed remarkable talent and technique. Rhonda also excelled in her rebound ability, especially in the second half of the game, and Kim Kurek showed hidden talent in the second half. The final score was 30-26. We would like to thank the referees for doing a fine job, and to Mr. Boratyniec who came with us to cheer us on to victory. A special thanks to the parents who drove the girls to the game. We really appreciate their help in the transportation costs. And, of course, we couldn't have done it without our coach, Ray Danyluk. We have ideas for fund-raising activities in the future. We hope you will support our team, as they represent the excellence of the youth in our community.

Pioneer Circle hears from New Horizons

Irene Magnusson
Elk Point

The special meeting of the Pioneer Circle members, called for 1:00 p.m. Tuesday, November 27, ended up with between 35 and 40 members showing up to hear what guest speaker, Mr. Dennis Moreau, could tell them about the rules and abilities of the New Horizons program.

No stranger to Elk Point seniors, Moreau has been before them several times over the years since the Pioneer Circle club was formed.

Introduced by Sid Holthe, of the newly appointed Special Committee, to find out the 'how' and 'why' of getting something rolling in the process of renovating or rebuilding the drop-in centre, Moreau proceeded to list the many items that a seniors' group could expect assistance with from New Horizons.

During the course of the outlay, it was noted that, over the years, membership in the club has dropped down, from over 200 members, to a low of around 120 now. Since grants are given, in part, on a 'needs' basis, it would seem the more members, the better the chance of grants. NEW activities have a better chance of receiving funds than old ones, he said, listing a number of activities seniors have successfully attempted.

Moreau suggested a 'survey' of the seniors in the area, to see what they are interested in, and might support. He also urged a membership campaign, to promote the centre in any way possible, and to gain more clout, through larger membership, when grants are applied for.

New Horizons grants will go mainly toward equipment, Moreau said; still, there could be something for renovations, if required.

For the upkeep of such items as pool tables, etc., it was suggested a "user fee" could be initiated, such as many Centres elsewhere employ.

Mr. Moreau left the members with a pretty good idea of what New Horizons could do for them, and what they could not do.

Holthe then reported briefly on the meeting his committee had with town Council. In the main, few definite points were reached. It was suggested a larger committee, of six persons instead of the present three, be appointed, to continue pursuit of the Club's objectives in the matter of renovations to the centre. It was also agreed that all members should try to get a few new members. The fee is merely $ 5.00, a pittance in this age. Any person over 55 is eligible for membership in the Pioneer Circle, and most would obtain some benefit from joining.

Further meetings may be called, as more information is received, Chairman Morris Cooper said, as he closed the meeting at 2:30 p.m.

A reminder to all members was given, of the December 15th Christmas party, in the hall, and that all attending should bring a small gift for exchange.

In Our View

A mere three weeks

Believe it or not. That's what we have left, before the big day of the year comes around. Well. We can take that, can't we?

This was brought home forcibly the other day, as I came into town from the north, noting how beautifully No. 41 spreads itself out, no longer a "cringe" road, but a normal, safe Alberta Highway, where one's soul need no longer shrink in fear when meeting a big bossy truck, as mine has done all these long years. But what I was really noticing as I slowed down to 30, was the big machine, with its long arm supporting a warmly dressed man as he worked to hang a large Christmas ornament high on the light pole.

Later, in the evening, in town again to attend a meeting, my eyes delighted in the sparkling lights bedecking two tall trees over in the Town Office vicinity. Yep! It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas, in town at least, if not everywhere I go.

It even feels like Christmas, since I woke up this morning to find my furnace had gone out, again!, and the mercury sits at -21 C, not the coldest day of the year, but chilly enough. At least it's not the power that's off, and I do have a couple of fans, plus the kitchen range, to ease the chill. But it makes one very alert, for a time, and I'm glad I'd plugged in the car, so I can make a getaway, if I must.

There are so many beautiful things about winter, here in Alberta. One of them is the lovely pink sunrise, sending its sparkle through the trees, highlighting the frosty points, way up there in the blue.

Another bit of glory, especially when you wake up at 4 a.m., is to look out to a sky so full of stars you think it must be kidding, or see that old lop-sided moon hanging over the spruce tops, and the deep dark shadows laying across the snow. My Alberta calendar says the moon is full on December 2, but Beautiful British Columbia says it's full on the 1st. Who cares? It's a bright and beautiful moon. And not to worry, in December of 1990, we are blessed with two full moons, the first being the Full Cold Moon, the second, December 31, is the Full Snow Moon. So, if it's not too cloudy, you should be able to see who you offer your New Year kiss to, if you do it out under the stars.

There are things less wonderful to wake up to, such as the decision of the United Nations to put some teeth in their bite, if the bullies of the Gulf don't pull out by the middle of January. Which will mean war. It's hard to know what to feel or think. Part of me wants to join in poking the greedy sob in the eye, part of me says war is never worth the cost. I wonder how we would feel, if we were the invaded country, helpless and trodden by bullies and thieves.

Following the news, as one does when alone or not too deeply occupied, I am made sad, by Canadians who seem to have no respect for their leaders, no pride in our country, no belief in right, just a terrible desire to belittle everything we have held to be our culture, our country, our creed. One would think, at times, that each individual is eager to run the whole country, that they expect no leader to make a decision on behalf of the country, even though we voted them in, and pay them well to do this job.

Have you all got your Christmas plans made? Where will you go, who will come home, who is 'doing' the turkey? Have you made your list and checked it twice, written your cards and letters, paid heed to all those hints and suggestions? (And checked your bank account?) If so, then perhaps you are ready for the coming of Christmas. If not, you are more like the rest of us, with fluster about to set in, as the days grow shorter, in more ways than one.

I've heard the comment that Christmas (and all the fuss attached to it) would disappear, if it weren't for women. We seem to be the ones who: bake the cake, invite the family, write the cards, trim the tree, deck the halls, make the lists, tie the bows, wrap the gifts, tell the kids all those lies, put up the lights, hang the mistletoe, the wreaths and the garlands, do that endless shopping, mail the cards (lick the glue!!!), stuff the bird, find the cranberries, stir the gravy, set the table, light the candles, and, dang it, usually get to wash the dishes.

No man in his right mind would undertake all that! And that's just the easy part. How about the dressing up, and off to church, and trying to remember what the REAL purpose of Christmas is, or could be, stripped of all the fancywork and commercialism?

I'm afraid women are responsible for a lot of the fancywork, and excess decoration of life. I guess we like it, or we'd change our ways. It seems to be part of our nature to want pretty things and bright and ornamental, to bring smiles to our family's faces and hearts, to make things nice. Some men may, too, but I think the majority are women.

What can you do, in the coming three weeks, to put smiles on your loved ones' faces, come Christmas morn? A lot, I'm sure, and you will, but I still think we shouldn't work so hard to make everything 'just right' that we have no time or energy to enjoy the fun and company of our family and friends, or to spare a few loving smiles for "him".

(Oh. I have to put in a new furnace!)

Hunting season open on party animals

With the end of the Big Game season, hunting takes a new twist. Now it is the party animals that are being pursued.

December 1 to 7 is Safe Driving Week, and one of the major problems that is seen by the Solicitor General's Department is the number of impaired drivers on the road. This time of year, when festive season parties get underway, is found to be especially dangerous, with often less than desirable road conditions and the tendency for infrequent drinkers to make up for a year's abstinence at holiday gatherings both adding to the problem.

An increased number of Checkstops will be conducted across the province from now until the new year, in an effort to make sure that impaired drivers do not have a chance to kill or maim themselves, their passengers or other motorists, but will instead, still be around to celebrate the season with their families, although possibly at the cost of their drivers' licences.

Impaired driving is a crime, although a very common one. In an effort to keep people from committing this crime, a promotion called "Round Up The Party Animals" is underway, targeting private house parties, licenced establishments and organized social functions. One individual per group of two or more is identified as the designated driver for that group and agrees not to consume any alcohol during the outing and to take responsibility for getting the other members of the group home safely. Often these designated drivers are given free non-alcoholic beverages during the outing, in the case of a licenced establishment. In the case of social functions, the trend is toward providing taxi service to take all the party animals home.

It is important to all our families to have us with them at Christmas. Therefore, it is especially important at this time of year that someone be responsible for "rounding up the party animals" and seeing them safely home. As an added bonus, remember-designated drivers virtually NEVER suffer from hangovers!

What's news at the library?

The Elk Point Library Board and Staff would like to welcome Margaret Young as a staff member for the next four months. Margaret has been a volunteer for over a year and the last few months has taken books to the Heritage Lodge for the library's "OUTREACH SERVICE".

Four new children's board books by Alison Lester are: "HAPPY AND SAD", "BIBS AND BOOTS", "BUMPING AND BOUNCING" and "CRASHING AND SPLASHING".

"THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION FAMILY MEDICAL GUIDE". This book covers four sections with illustrations: "The Healthy Body", "Symptoms and Self-Diagnosis", "Diseases, Disorders and Other Problems" and "Caring for the Sick".

VIDEOS:

"JANE FONDA'S COMPLETE WORKOUT". An old favorite replacing the video we had before that was damaged.

"FORBIDDEN PLANET". The best of the science fiction productions of the '50s. The year is 2257 A.D. with the landing of an Earth's space cruiser on the planet Altair-IV. This planetary paradise sparks a spine-chilling adventure for the crew of the spaceship and for the people of the planet. The video is one hour and 39 minutes long and is in color.

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW". Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton sparkle and amuse as Katharina and Petruchio in William Shakespeare's comic look at male chauvinism and women's lib in the 16th century. This video is in color and the running time is approximately one hour and 22 minutes.

"BORN FREE", 1966 winner of two Academy awards, including best score. This wondrous true adventure from the best-selling novel about a lioness and the woman who raised her and eventually set her free, is beautifully photographed on the vast golden savannas of central Africa. Approximate running time is 95 minutes and it is in color.

Three new music cassettes for the library's music collection are: "LIVE ON BROADWAY" by Barry Manilow, "MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS" by New Kids On the Block, and "CAR TUNES ABOUT ANIMALS" by Sharon, Lois and GST?

THIS WEEK YOU ASKED THE GST CONSUMER INFORMATION OFFICE.

Q: I'm thinking of buying a new car in 1991. How will the proposed GST affect prices?

A: The outgoing Federal Sales Tax (FST) is now part of the price of new cars. So, while they will be fully taxed at 7% in 1991, the expected effect of replacing the FST with the GST on the average $22,000 mid-size car is a reduction of around $850.

Q: My son has figured out it will cost $500 in lumber to build a dock at our cottage if he bought it now. How much will that lumber cost with the proposed GST?

A: You can expect to pay about $512 for that same amount of lumber for personal use based solely on the changeover from the FST to the GST.

Q: I know the proposed GST won't apply to city bus fares but I take the commuter train to work. Will I have to pay GST?

A: No. Daily commuter trains are considered a municipal transit service, so fares are exempt from GST.

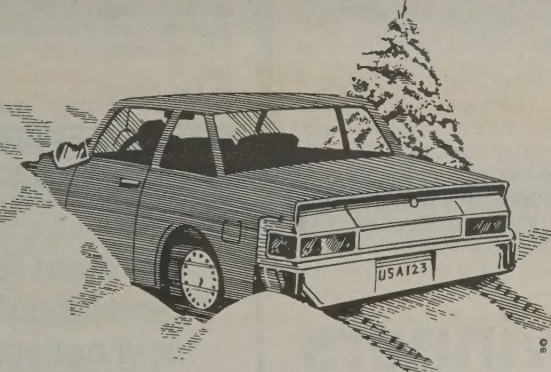

We're here to answer your questions about how the GST will affect prices. Call us toll-free Monday to Friday 9am-9pm. Ask for your free copy of the "Consumer's Guide to the GST and Prices."

The answer is to call

'Tis the season

This time it was only a snowbank. But it could have been a brick wall. An oncoming car. A pedestrian. When you mix alcohol with driving, you never know what you're up against. This holiday season, don't make a mistake that could be fatal. Use good judgement. Don't drink and drive.

Auxiliary hears Xmas list

Irene Magnusson

Elk Point

A good turnout of Auxilians showed up for the last 1990 meeting and Christmas party, at the regular meeting room, Monday evening, November 26. Minutes and financial reports were heard and dealt with, followed by Violet McFadyen's report of the Canteen activities. As usual, the call was for more knitted or crocheted slippers, also baby toys; otherwise, all is going well.

A discussion on the GST, whether the group need apply for a number or not, followed. It was agreed they would register.

To Bingo or not to Bingo, that was the next question, meaning in the large hall in St. Paul. The matter of getting enough staff to run it was given some thought, some members having no knowledge of how to do this, and not too anxious to try. Information will be requested.

The invitation of all Auxiliary members to supper by the Hospital Board was noted, the time 6:00 p.m., December 13, at the Empress Dining Room.

The list of articles required and desired by the Hospital was read by nurse Genny Shmyr; the Auxiliary members discussed these items and agreed to purchase most of them, to a total of not over $3,000, this to keep inside their means. Tray favors for the Christmas season have already been prepared. A few items, including the 'hospital' mugs, were ordered, to be sold in the canteen.

It was noted the Auxiliary could use more members, and all were urged to 'bring a friend', or otherwise encourage new membership.

A delicious snack was served, and enjoyed, and the usual exchange of gifts occurred. Entertainment was supplied by several lovely songs by Elaine Wannechko, who sings with a group in Vermilion.

Answers to what you should know about traffic accidents quiz (page 5)

The answers to the quiz are explained below. Knowing these facts can help you find ways to avoid being involved in a road crash so please read them carefully.

The teenagers who helped produce this quiz provided the safety tips that are highlighted below. There are many ways that you can reduce your chances of being injured or killed in a traffic crash; think about ways that can work for you as you read these answers.

1) The answer is d, traffic accidents. Among 16-19 year olds the leading cause of death is traffic accidents and the second major cause is suicide. Males your age are two times more likely to die from a motor vehicle accident than from suicide, and 16-19 year old females are four times more likely to die in a road crash than from suicide.

2) The answer is d, 41-50. For every one hundred deaths in your age group, about 43 will be the result of a motor vehicle accident. That means that if ten of your friends were to die, 4 would die from road crashes.

3) The answer is a, 16-19. Drivers aged 16-19 have the highest death rate due to motor vehicle accidents. Your risk of being killed on the road is almost twice as high as that of drivers aged 20-24, and more than 5 times greater than middle aged drivers.

4) The answer is a, drivers. Males aged 16-19 die in motor vehicle accidents more often as drivers. A male aged 16-19 who is involved in an accident is most likely to be driving the vehicle or riding as a passenger in a vehicle driven by a male friend.

5) The answer is b, passengers. Females aged 16-19 die in motor vehicle accidents mostly as passengers. Many of them were in cars driven by young male drivers.

"I refuse to drive with someone who shows off, speeds or drinks before getting in the car. If they don't take my safety seriously, I've got to." Tracy M., 17 years old.

6) The answer is a, yes. If you are involved in an accident, your chances of being killed are greater on a motorcycle than in a car. Aside from providing less protection to the rider, motorcycles are harder for other motorists to see, and are more demanding to maneuver. An approved helmet, eye and face protection and proper clothing are important.

"I wear protective gear when I ride in motorcross races, and I feel safer there than on the highway. So believe me, I always wear protective gear when I ride my motorcycle on the highway." Wayne D., 19 years old.

7) The answer is c, 50 percent. About one-half of teenage accidents occur on Friday and Saturday nights. Partying, decreased visibility and a greater number of drunk drivers on the road increase the risk.

"At night and on weekends, teenagers seem to let loose. Or we're distracted by other things. I drive defensively all the time." Mary S., 18 years old.

8) The answer is c, driver error or condition. The leading cause of accidents involving teenagers is driver error or condition. Other causes are infrequent. How you drive does, to a large extent, determine whether or not you will be involved in a road crash.

"I took a driver education course to learn how to drive safely." Jack L., 16 years old.

9) The answer is e, 80 percent. Over 80 percent of accidents are caused by driver error or condition. Performance errors, speeding, alcohol or drug impairment, and risk-taking result in road crashes.

10) The answer is a, 16-19. Drivers aged 16-19 years old are more likely to drive too fast and lose control of their vehicles, resulting in crashes. Over-confidence in your driving ability can have tragic consequences.

"I always take the road and weather conditions into account...they make a big difference to the control I have over the car." Marie O., 17 years old.

11) The answer is a, yes. After a few drinks, teenagers do have a greater chance of being killed in a traffic accident. Inexperience with driving, with drinking, and with driving after drinking explain this greater risk. For many, drinking increases the willingness to take risks.

"There are lots of ways to get home if I've partied too much: bus, cab, a straight friend. Even my folks would rather I call them than drive drunk, or with someone who's drunk." Tony G., 18 years old.

12) The answer is b, no. Teenagers are not more able to handle the effects of alcohol than the average driver. While you may have above average skills, even a small amount of alcohol can affect your judgement and reflexes.

"My older sister picks me up, or pays for the cab, if I've been partying. No hassles, no questions asked. Sure beats the alternatives." Sharon W., 19 years old.

13) The answer is c, it makes no difference. A 12 oz. (341 ml) bottle of regular beer, a 5 oz. (142 ml) glass of wine, or 1 1/2 oz. (43 ml) shot of liquor contain the same amount of alcohol, so it makes no difference what you drink.

"When we get together, one of us stays sober. We take turns. It's kind of reassuring to know that whoever's driving will get us home safely." John T., 18 years old.

14) The answer is e, 41-50. For every one hundred teenage drivers killed in road accidents, about 45 would have been drinking. This means that if 10 of your peers die in road crashes, 5 of them would have been drinking alcohol before their collision.

"We drop our keys off at the beginning of the party and if someone is impaired, we keep the keys and get our friend home another way." Sandy S., 19 years old.

15) The answer is c, July-August. Recreational driving in less familiar locations and vacation partying account for the majority of alcohol-related accidents occurring in July and August.

"Distraction is dangerous and too many people in the car can take my attention from the road. I insist my friends keep it down when I'm driving." Sam C., 16 years old.

16) The answer is d, .08 (80 mg). In Canada, it is a criminal offence to drive (or even to have care of the vehicle) with more than 80 mg percent of alcohol in your blood. You can be charged for refusing a breath test or driving while impaired even with lower levels of alcohol in your bloodstream.

17) The answer is b, .05 (50 mg). In several provinces, you can have your licence suspended for up to 24 hours if BACs between 50 and 80 mg percent are detected by roadside breathtesting devices. If there's no safe place for you to park your vehicle, or no other unimpaired licenced driver available, the police can tow your car away, at your expense.

18) The answer is f, none of the above. There are no illegal drugs which improve your driving. These and other prescription drugs alone and when combined with alcohol can interfere with your ability to drive safely.

19) The answer is d, all of the above. Many multiple vehicle collisions occur because a driver fails to see another vehicle, even during daylight hours. Driving with your headlights on will improve the visibility of your vehicle.

20) The answer is a, 16-19. Drivers aged 16-19 are least likely to buckle up, even though seatbelts dramatically reduce the chances of injury or death in accidents.

21) The answer is c, belt uncomfortable/nuisance. Many people feel that belts are a nuisance or simply uncomfortable. Or they forget.

"When I heard the 'with and without seatbelts' injury statistics, wow! Anyone who drives with me wears their belt." Jane M., 17 years old.

22) The answer is c, 1 chance in 50 (high). The chance that you'll be injured in a motor vehicle accident in the next twelve months is about one chance in 50, high. Look around...you or someone you know have the cards stacked against them.

WHAT ELSE CAN YOU DO?

Now that you have read the answers and discovered some of the positive things that other teenagers are doing, you should think about action that you can take to reduce the chances of you or your friends being involved in a road crash. The steps that you take now can make a big difference.

There are many options open to you. Besides taking steps to increase your own safety, you may want to form a committee or group in your high school or in your community to raise awareness and concern about the problem, and to identify solutions that youth can take together, or on their own, to reduce the number of traffic accidents. If you already belong to a club or association you may want to challenge your friends to get involved and to take a leadership role by setting a good example.

Alberta Special Waste Management Corporation

WE WISH YOU THE BEST OF EVERYTHING THIS HOLIDAY SEASON...

Clean air. Clean land. Clean water. At ASWMC, we're working to bring you the best of everything. With your help, we've already made great strides in environmental protection - and 1990 was a year of special achievement. It saw the installation of a new rotary kiln for the treatment of hazardous wastes, the expansion of educational programs in special waste management, and increased involvement from the private sector with the opening of new Transfer Stations.

AND A SAFE AND HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Community involvement in 1990 was greater than ever - resulting in record results from Corporation-sponsored clean-up programs. The number of communities participating in Toxic Round-Ups increased from 65 to 120; the amount of materials collected being in excess of half a million litres. And Alberta's Great Drug Round-Up, collected more than 20 tonnes of old, used and outdated medicines!

... and in our community:

Brrr...It's cold and the birds would appreciate some easy food. Make a bird feeder out of an empty 2 litre milk carton. Cut a flap in one side 4 cm from the bottom and keep it up with a piece of string so it looks like a little roof. It will protect the feed and the birds. Hang the feeder from a tree that will give cover to the birds if they need it.

In Memorium

UCHMAN, Stan

In loving memory of Stan Uchman, who passed away on December 4, 1988.

Time speeds on, two years have passed

Since death its gloom, its shadow cast

Within our home, where all seemed bright,

And took from us a shining light,

We miss that light, and ever will,

His vacant place there is none can fill

Down here we mourn, but not in vain,

For up in heaven we will meet again.

Sadly missed by wife Anne, your sons and their families.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Bonnie Wihlidal and Duncan Osinchuk will be married on December 29, 1990.

Our friends and neighbours are invited to share in the joy of our wedding at 4:00 p.m. in the Bible Fellowship Church in Clondonald and the dance and late supper in the Clondonald Hall at 9:00 p.m. Please consider this your invitation.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank Rev. Fr. D. Hohol and the ladies from the church for all the help they gave us. Thanks also, to all our relatives and friends for the food, flowers, donations and cards that we received. Your sympathy and good wishes were much appreciated.

Community services news: Christmas bird count

Every year since 1900 bird watchers in North America have been participating in annual counts of the birds living in their areas during the Christmas season. This census is known as the Christmas Bird Count and is a very important source of information about changes to bird species and their distribution throughout North America. In 1991 there will be over 1500 Christmas Bird Counts in places ranging from Panama to Alaska. This year Elk Point will host its first Christmas Bird Count.

All Bird Counts are conducted in an area which is 15 miles in diameter and are conducted during a twenty-four hour period. Elk Point's Count will be centred at Elk Point and will extend seven and a half miles in all directions from town and will be held on December 30, 1990. Anyone can participate in the Christmas Bird Count. In fact, the success of the Count will be greatly improved if we have many people involved. All that is required from participants is an interest in learning about birds and spending part of December 30 looking for birds. Of course, knowing how to identify birds is an asset but is not necessary as all participants will get a short course in how to identify the typical birds in our area. We will need two kinds of bird counters: feeder watchers and bird spotters. The feeder watchers simply monitor the birds that come to their feeders during December 30. The spotters will be formed into teams and given a segment of the count area to explore for birds.

For more information about the Elk Point Christmas Bird Count contact Stephen Montgomery at 724-3800.

What's your sign?

Ask that question next time you want to get a conversation started. Whether or not they really believe in astrology, most people are turned on by the signs of the Zodiac. That's why astrology magazines sell ten million copies a year and astrology columns offering daily forecasts appear in over 1,200 newspapers. Today's astrology is a billion dollar business as well as a popular pastime. Computers cough up printouts showing what the planets and stars mean in your life. Designers, hairdressers, and jewellers offer styles to suit your sign. And if you want to let the rest of the world know what sign you were born under, you can buy keychains, T-shirts, ballpoint pens, and stationery that tells the world you're a Leo, an Aries, a Libra, or a Capricorn, whatever.

For centuries astrology has been regarded as something used to foretell the future. You don't have to take it seriously, but don't be surprised if it helps you gain new insights into yourself and your friends.

ARIES

Mar. 21 - Apr. 19

You may find yourself the centre of an admiring audience, but the flattery isn't likely to be backed by action. Jupiter, planet of great expansion, is entering your home quarters and a feeling of luxury and comfort should mark this period. Consider renovation and refurbishing. Be prepared to pay.

TAURUS

Apr. 20 - May 20

A shift in your thinking could change a difficult issue into an exciting challenge. You'll still be comfortable at home and could accomplish more there than in the business world. Young people will spark your energy. A business transaction is likely to meet frustrating delays. Don't force issues that lay ahead.

Practical matters dominate your life, children also, house, husband. It's imperative that you take charge of your own fate; things do accelerate.

AQUARIUS

Hard work will pay off as you reach your goals. A male, with a very high ego, is competitive. Your fears are unfounded; you'll have to deal with them until they subside. Help comes from an unexpected force. Young person views you as a role model. You are feeling very intense.

PISCES

Feb. 20 - Mar. 20

Reject superficial explanations. Someone isn't telling the truth. You'll travel in this holiday season. A raffle could prove lucky for you. Drama takes centre stage. An action you take today could put you on solid ground tomorrow. Bargains cause overspending. Resist these temptations.

OORP annual flea market

Irene Magnusson
Elk Point

"Flea Market" is a most unusual term. After looking through all my information books, I've been unable to find a definition of how the phrase came to be. Obviously, a 'flea' market is NOT a sale of fleas. It is, indeed, if anything, a sale of everything BUT fleas.

Such was the Elk Point Royal Purple Flea Market, of November 17, held, as it has been annually, in the Elks Hall. Alvina Schumacher, co-chairperson of the committee in charge, opened the sale with an official welcome, at 1:00 p.m., to the large crowd who crammed the spaces between the tables.

Some 30 to 35 tables were groaning under the excess of items offered for sale by groups, individuals and companies. A brief run-down can safely say that 'some' of the items for sale were: baking, crochet work, shellcraft, quilts (oodles of 'em), woodwork, wheat weaving, wooden toys, stuffed toys, toys, toys, Christmas ornaments, toiletries, soaps, knitting, candies, jewellery, clothing, artwork and pies, pies, pies. I certainly have missed some but you get the picture—there was a LOT of stuff offered for sale!

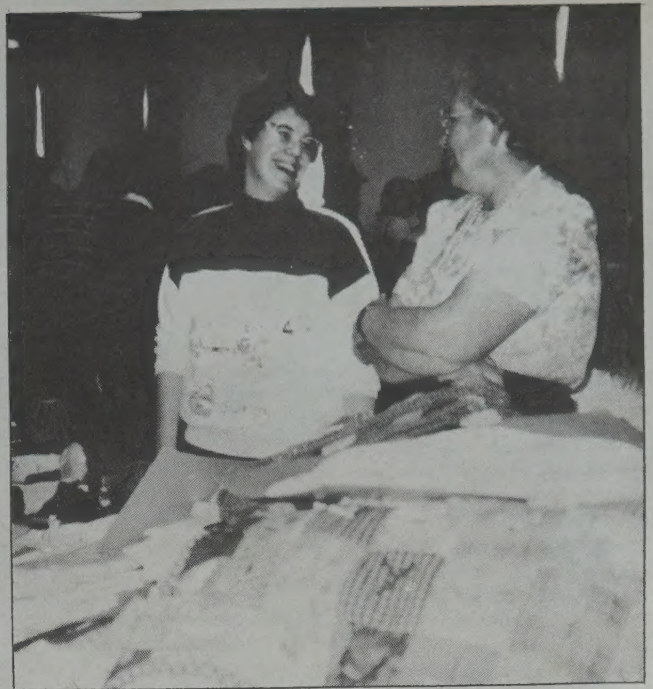

The day was fine, the prices reasonable, and I presume sales were brisk. The salespersons—and in many cases, the creators—seemed to be very busy, demonstrating and displaying their wares. Downstairs in the Elks Hall, another group of ladies were dispensing coffee and snacks to the hungry; it was also an excellent opportunity for friends to chat awhile.

The Royal Purple ladies, skilled in the pie-making craft, offered a wide assortment of the delicious pastry, which was gone like snow in July by closing time. A successful Flea Market, I'm sure!

Wall To Wall Shoppers

The Royal Purple Flea Market was a mecca for early Christmas shoppers, who had a wide range of gift ideas to choose from.

4-H history book underway

In 1992, 4-H and Alberta will celebrate 75 years of "Learning to do by Doing". The 75th Anniversary Committee of the Alberta 4-H Council, with help from the Alberta 4-H Foundation and the 4-H Branch of Alberta Agriculture, has commissioned 4-H and Alberta...Growing Together, the Alberta 4-H History Book Project.

Alberta's pioneers saw the merit in developing young people's skills and leadership abilities, and the 4-H movement has evolved from their foresight. 4-H has grown from its beginnings as that first Swine Club at Olds in 1917. At first, the agricultural industry was the biggest winner in these efforts with the development of prized livestock and grain seedstock. Soon, the personal development skills fostered by 4-H contributed to the growth and success of hundreds of Alberta communities, and to the province itself. This is the story to be told by the Alberta 4-H History Book; the story of 4-H and Alberta growing together.

The History Book will be a classy, hardcover publication which will be a valued collector's item for years to come. The 75th Anniversary Committee is pleased to announce the hiring of Keith L. Jones, P.Ag., as the Editor of the History Book. Keith is from an established 4-H family in the Balzac area, and has experienced 4-H as a club member, 4-H Alumni member, former Regional 4-H Specialist and adult volunteer. A professional agrologist and partner in the family farm, Keith is excited about producing an informative and entertaining History Book.

The 75th Anniversary Committee invites Albertans with a 4-H story to tell to get involved in 4-H and Alberta...Growing Together. We are asking for submissions from clubs, community groups and individuals from across the province. The History Book will contain stories about club, project and program histories, personality profiles, and lots of photos. Anyone interested in making a submission should write for a History Book Submission Guide, which outlines how to put together a submission and some research and writing tips.

The 75th Anniversary Committee has commissioned a limited number of Special Editions of the History Book, for sale to supporters of 4-H. These limited number, collector's editions are on sale now to help raise funds for the History Book project and the rest of the 75th Anniversary celebrations. Purchasers of these Special Edition History Books will be presented with the books at the SHOWCASE '92 4-H birthday celebration in July 1992. For more information on these special editions, or on making a submission, write to Keith Jones, History Book Editor, Box 240, Balzac, Alberta T0M 0E0 or phone 295-2658.

Blues on top novice division standings

Pat Vincent
Minor Hockey

It was a crisp, cool, winter's day. The type of minor hockey Saturday morning wherein every aspiring young hockey player's dreams are molded.

The climatic conditions, though no longer a hardship for the hockey players, what with our indoor ice palaces, still present problems for the parents and their weather sensitive vehicles. This being the Byer Blues first road game of the season, you can venture a guess that it had to be the coldest winter day, now that the season had been officially ushered in.

Overcoming minor vehicle operational problems, such as frozen gas lines, faulty windshield defrost fans and square tires, all protestations to our winter climate, the entire novice team did show up at the Polaris arena in St. Paul for the November 24 game against St. Paul (2).

The Blues game plan was not designed after the outside weather. However, they, like their parents' cold vehicles, started slow, but when warmed up, were motoring right along.

It was half way through the first period before either team were able to record a statistic on the game sheet. Nathan Matthews, demonstrating superior skating and puck-handling skills, charged into the St. Paul end. A rising short caught the upper corner of the net, out of the reach of the St. Paul goaltender. Assisting on the play were Christopher Watson and Brett Kopeck.

With a little more than five minutes remaining in the first period, St. Paul evened the score at one apiece when David Lavassiere scored for the home team from a scramble in front of the net.

One aspect of hockey older teams are constantly grilled on, is never let the opposing team score in the first or last minute of a period. It proved, in the case of the Byers Blues, to be the edge in the momentum which carried the team to victory. Nathan Matthews got his second goal of the game, with 26 seconds remaining in the first period. Darcy Stafford and James Purdy were given credits for assists on the play.

After switching ends of the rink for the commencement of the second period, the Blues wasted no time and scored in the opening minute of play. With fifteen seconds of playing time elapsed, Russell Quinney scored his first goal of the season, to up the Blues lead to 3-1. Assisting on the play was Joshua Kutryk.

The Blues lengthened their lead to 4-1 at the 14:16 mark of the middle frame when Nathan Matthews completed his hat trick on an unassisted effort.

The Blues offensive effort was rounded out in the third period with Joshua Kutryk scoring at the 17:24 mark with an assist to Ben Matthews on the play.

The Blues remain undefeated after four league games, boasting of an enviable record of three wins and one tie. And, with seven points, stand alone atop the Novice Division league standings.

Amateur Skating Coaches' Clinic
